

Employees + Efficiency + Effectiveness = SUCCESS

The Indiana Department of Correction (DOC) would like to foster an informative relationship with the General Assembly. By doing so, the General Assembly will be more informed on how the DOC is operating and can assist this agency with maximizing service to the taxpayers of Indiana.

The Department of Correction prides itself on being efficient, effective and having the best people. This booklet contains some brief illustrations on our present status and our future plans. We invite you to learn more about corrections.

J. David Donahue
Commissioner

Governor Mitchell E. Daniels, Jr. has challenged us all to expect more from state government, to find “new solutions... and unified purpose.” He has challenged us to aim high. He’s reminded us that, “breaking with business as usual is never comfortable, but once accomplished it is exhilarating.”

RECIDIVISM

- The Department's recidivism rate is * 37.7%
- Recidivism is defined as a return to DOC custody within three years of release.

 (Based on 2001 releases.)*

RE-ENTRY INITIATIVES

Transition from Prison to Community Initiative (TPCI)

The national re-entry model designed to enhance public safety by using best-practices and engaging community service providers to reduce recidivism.

DOC has partnered with over 20 state agencies and community providers to reform transition practices in Indiana.

Faith and Character-Based Units

Curriculum emphasis is on spiritual, moral, and character development, life-skills training and preparation for a successful re-entry to society.

Sex Offender Management and Monitoring Program (SOMM)

A containment model approach to sex offender community supervision involving specialized parole supervision, polygrapher, treatment provider and sex offender specialist.

Pre-Release Re-Entry Program

Designed to address critical release issues and skill building such as identification, housing, resumé writing, interviewing skills, etc.

Methamphetamine Treatment Units

The Department's CLIFF Units that specialize in Methamphetamine treatment, have a strong emphasis on offender re-entry into the community. All offenders who are discharged from the CLIFF Units receive an individualized release recovery plan. This provides the offenders with specific recommendations of follow-up services that will be needed to help ensure clean and sober life style, and improve their chances of successful re-entry into the community. Recommendations may include follow-up counseling, 12 step support groups, and other referrals based upon individual offender needs.

In addition, the Department has identified and continues to identify community treatment providers that offer Methamphetamine specific after care and treatment services. This continuity of treatment will support Methamphetamine addicted offenders successful re-entry to society.

Community Corrections Programs

Advisory Board formulates plan and coordinates local programs.

Chargeback against grant if certain offenders (suspendable, non-violent) are committed to DOC and program components are not at capacity.

Administration: Local programs are operated as independent county agencies, by not-for-profit agencies under contract to county or as a division of probation or sheriffs departments.

Most Common Components: Day Reporting, Community Work Service and Restitution, House Arrest and Home Detention with Electronic Monitoring, Road Crew and Work Detail, Victim Offender Mediation; and Work Release and Residential

Community Transition Program

Early release from incarceration with judicial approval based on statutory guidelines.

Work Release

Assist offenders with identifying and accessing community services including, housing, employment, life skills, substance abuse treatment and mental health services.

Parole Services

Parole is the supervision provided to offenders at the completion of their imprisonment term. The goal of parole supervision is to integrate programming at the beginning of an offender's first contact with the Department of Correction.

Our long-term goal is to use an evidence-based practice that will assist in identifying the resources needed for successful re-entry into the community.

Parole agents are the mentors who will consistently participate in the ongoing process of re-entry during the entire time an offender spends with the Department.

The expanded role of the parole agent will be to identify and deliver services for a successful re-entry that translates into lower instances of recidivism.

Offenders removed tires from Fall Creek for Earth Day Celebration.

FAITH AND CHARACTER-BASED PLUS UNITS

- Pilots are located at Indiana Women's Prison, Correctional Industrial Facility and Plainfield Juvenile Correctional Facility.
- Our Faith and Character-based housing units are called "Purposeful Living Units Serve (P.L.U.S.);" and, are open to participants of all faiths or no faith.
- The adult program is designed to last 12-18 months and the juvenile program will last 12-18 weeks.

The juvenile P.L.U.S. unit is the first juvenile faith and character-based unit in the country.

It is anticipated that the P.L.U.S. units should result in:

- Fewer management problems than in the general offender population;
- Above average performance ratings for those offenders in the program in both their work and program assignments;
- A more successful transition back into the community for the participating offenders based upon the spiritual and/or personal growth brought about by the program's components.

MEDICAL SERVICES

The Department provides comprehensive health care services, including:

- acute and chronic health care
- wellness screening and preventive services
- occupational health
